Dear Mr. Sandler,

My name is Tammi Clauson and I am a former employee of World Savings. I began my career with your company on May 5, 1980 and was there through the sale to Wachovia and the takeover/merger with Wells Fargo.

A group of us in Colorado had a reunion this past June. I've enclosed the invitation we sent out. We had almost 50 former World employees there! The picture I enclosed is the group getting ready to toast the amazing company we worked for.

Most of us "grew up" with World. We grew together as a team and as friends. We had no idea how much we would appreciate each other. We all know that we worked for an incredibly well-run and well-respected company. After all these years, the fun memories are still ingrained in each of us. We were blessed to have been part of growing World Savings.

One of my fondest memories is when Marion called me on my 25 year anniversary with World! What other owners of large companies do that??! I also remember what an honor it was to meet you and Marion in Oakland around the time that World bought Majestic Savings. (I still have the name tents from the table, I was seated next to Marion.)

World was a company truly based on serving customers! That's what made World successful.

The way we on the "front line" were listened to... our thoughts, opinions & ideas were listened to and acted upon.

The cruises for President's Club and all of the recognition of employees were amazing.

But, most of all, the two of you built a company with ethics, integrity and strength. I, and the others at the reunion, are grateful to have spent a good part of our lives working for World Savings. We want to say "Thank-you" and to tell you how proud we are to have worked for World ... for you and for Marion.

With appreciation,

Tammi Clawson

10 years ago this October, our "World" as we knew it, came to an end. Looking back, what a great company to have worked for and grow with. The expectations were challenging but achievable. The rewards were always memorable! Most of all we "grew up" with each other. Our hope is that this reunion re-ignites some friendships and brings back lots of fun memories!
